Accommodations

While the aim was to create a fast yacht the designer did not want the MaxFun to be an empty boat inside. The internal frame is visible throughout the boat but by making the moulding in a dark colour and with a spickle coating it already will look vastly different from what we are used to. The hull sides are finished off in alcantara look alike lightweight panels and with removable leather seats and wooden floor panels the boat has a warm feeling inside. On starboard side is the nav. table with space for a notebook and electronics.

- The interior can in total accommodate six persons.
- Two aluminium pipecots can be installed in the bow.

Galley

The galley consists of a sink and three burner stove integrated in a one piece base.

This whole unit is gimbaled.
